Dear members of Alpha Kappa Psi,

My name is Anish Dutta, a third year transfer student from MSU double majoring in Finance and Marketing. My strengths lie in organization, teamwork, and adaptability, all which are skills I've sharpened through both academic and professional experiences. Beyond the classroom, I enjoy watching NBA games (I am a Cleveland Cavs fan), reading fiction books like Percy Jackson and going to the gym. I am eager to join Alpha Kappa Psi because I believe in its mission of developing principled business leaders, and I want to surround myself with a network of driven individuals who will both challenge and inspire me. Alpha Kappa Psi seeks members who are ambitious, collaborative, and committed to professional growth. My previous experiences have prepared me to contribute meaningfully to this organization. My summer internship at Suburban Collection Showplace as well as my part time job at Urban Outfitters has honed my skills in creative thinking, leadership, communication and teamwork. As the Social Chair of Sigma Chi Epsilon, I worked with a team of 8+ executive board members to create and develop 15+ social events to increase engagement and form connections with other Greek life organizations on campus. What excites me most about Alpha Kappa Psi is your dedication to shaping principled business leaders who prioritize both professional achievement and personal development. I deeply value this balance, as I believe a person's merits and success is not only dependent on their accomplishments but their reliability and values as a person. I would be honored to be interviewed to have a spot in this organization as I believe I can provide Alpha Kappa Psi with a seasoned leader who has experience with leading and growing others around him.

Sincerely,

Anish Dutta
