Dear Brothers of Alpha Kappa Psi,

My name is Veeda Nezami, and I'm a freshman marketing major with my sight set on a very specific goal: hustling to become a powerhouse in the world of professional soccer marketing. My areas of competence are high energy, communication, and breaking the "glass ceiling." Whether I'm courtside or in the classroom, my motivation is driven by competition and the challenge of building a brand from the ground up. I'm a firm believer that nothing is handed to you. You are the one to create that story. I moved to Michigan from California two years ago, bringing with me a passion for sports, community building, and a big shocker, autobody collision. I want to join Alpha Kappa Psi because I'm looking for a "home team" here at Wayne State to determine when to "touchdown" with principal business leaders who value courage and inclusivity as much as I do. I don't just want to enter the business world. I want to be able to write my own story and make a change for the better.

I'm a firm believer that how you do one thing is how you do everything. When I first joined my ROP autobody program in California, I was one of only four girls in the shop. It was definitely nerve-racking, but rather than just blending in, I took the lead to create an on-campus car show that fundamentally changed the culture of the program today. Over 15 girls are enrolled in that class. That's a motive in that same drive that followed me to Michigan, where I balanced at a 3.71 GPA with heavy involvement in leadership and athletics. My background has prepared me to be an elite active member of AKPsi through:

- Marketing & Brand Management: Becoming an intern for Troy High Athletics, I managed a professional barstool account and served as one of the "Voice of the Colts" as a home game announcer for over 50+ viewers, learning how to engage a live audience, enhance my public speaking skills, and manage a digital brand.
- Leadership & Team Dynamics: As captain of my high school basketball team, I learned how to motivate diverse personalities under pressure. I don't play basketball in college, but a skill I have now applied as a board member and outreach coordinator for the Zakat Foundation here at Wayne State.
- Inclusion and Advocacy: serving on the inclusion and representation committee, I helped execute awareness weeks in heritage month celebrations, ensuring our 200+ students felt seen and heard.

Over the last few weeks, I've done my homework on AKPsi's commitment to being "principled business leaders." Your focus on brotherhood integrity was shown every single day throughout events. There was never a day when it lacked. That brotherhood and integrity are mirroring the work that I've begun to do with the Zakat Foundation and my past advocacy for Hispanic and black history months. I fit your agenda, and I want to fit your agenda because I am a builder, whether it's building a car show, a social media presence, or a more inclusive campus environment. I am ready to push this chapter further by using my outreach experience to bridge the gap between our professional goals and the diverse Detroit community that we call home today.

I would love the opportunity to interview and show you exactly how California born soccer obsessed marketer can contribute to the legacy of Alpha Kappa Psi. I'm ready to put in the work, whether it's waking up at 4 AM or showing up at 7 PM. I'm ready to "lace up my cleats," or in this case, heels, and grow alongside the best business minds on campus. Thank you for your time and for considering me for this brotherhood!

Sincerely,

Veeda Nezami
